BREED THEATER.

"Fight for Life," Tremendously

bing with vital interests and filled to overflowing with sensational inci-dents, and withal presenting the photographic representation of one of the most unique events ever photographed, such is the great picture entitled A Fight for Life, shown at the Breed theater to a packed house last evening. This picture is perfect in every detail and depicts many scenes of the 181 Runch Wild West as chotographed. 101 Ranch Wild West, as photographed while in the Mexico City bull ring, but the real event is the one in which William Pickett, the cowboy, famous the world over "for his feats of strength, fights an infuriated hull sin-strength, fights an infuriated bull single handed and conquers it, much to the chagrin of the Mexican and Spanish builfighters, who have been successful only with an unlimited supply of weapons and many avenues of excape in case of an accident.

The natives were enraged to think that an American did what they were unable to do, and hurled missiles of every sort at the cowboy, but later recognized his great achievement and fairly idolized him.

The remainder of the bill is, as usual, as good as can be procured, but

The remainder of the bill is, as usual, as good as can be procured, but The Fight for Life can be seen only at the matinee and evening performances today, when preparations are being made to accommodate the mustified that is anxious to witness it. Joseph C. Miller, president of the famous 101 Ranch of Oklahoma, publicity offered $5,000 to any professional builfighter who would dare to duplicate the desperate feat of William Pickett, a cowboy, who battled, bare-handed, with a Spanish bull in El Toreo, the world-renowned buil-ring of Mexico City. Every boastful Spanish and Mexican matador scampered in fright. A moving picture replica of Pickett's exploit will be at the Breed theater this afternoon and evening. It is the current sensation in life motion films, for it displays the only combat of its kind that ever took place.

Three entertainments will be given tonight, at 7. 8 and 9 o'clock, because of the feature picture of the Spanish

FLORISTS' PROFITS Disclosed During Trial of Case in Greenwich. Is there money in flowers? asks the New England. The plan is to estab.

Ilsh houses to which laymen may retreat to recuperate not only their health but their morals.

The plan of Mr. Moran and Mr. Lyona is to arouse interest in these recover matter relative to the prices charged.

The plan of Mr. Moran and Mr. Lyons is to arouse interest in these retreats here and perhaps establish one in New Haven. The retreats are of course under the direction of the Fathers of the Society of Jesus.

Mr. Moran, who is a director in the committee which has charge of the national work, spoke of the reasons for the establishment of the retreats and the effect on those who attend them. He told of the general organization of the houses.

He stated that the last retreat of the year will be held at Keyser island off South Norwalk November 26 and December 17.

brought out a great deal of interesting matter relative to the prices charged by retail dealers in New York and Greenwich. He had been instructed by Mrs. Everard to have her mansion decorated for her daughter's birthday, which was December 1, 1908. The decorations for the dining room, staircase, ballroom and hall, in the bill of particulars, amounted to $1,250. Yellow and lavender was the color scheme which was carried out by the florists.

The plaintiff stated that it was impossible to gather all the flowers out of his own gardens and he had to go to the New York markets to supply the of his own gardens and he had to go to the New York markets to supply the demand. The decorations were most elaborate. Smilax, chrysanthemums, orchids and many other plants, besides palms and ferns being used. Small electric light bulbs of many colors were intermingled with the flowers. In his bill of particulars the plaintiff stated that there were 500 chrysanthemus at 70 cents each. These he bought of the New York wholesalers at 35 cents each. Also 150 orchids at $1 each, bought from the wholesalers at 50 cents apiece. The witness stated that double prices were charged as the retailer had to pay the charges for shipment, packing and returning of crates. There were four other florists from New York who were heard along the line of costs of flowers.

OVER 240 PERMITS.

Fire Marshal Is Rendering Valuable Assistance to the Meriden Taxation

240 permits were granted during the past year for new houses and additions to the dwellings and for factory improvements. This is a remarkably fine record for this city. Last year the number of permits granted was $5. The assessors have inspected a large number of new buildings during this week and there are many more under construction. There were comparatively few of the cheaper class of houses erected this year.

Chairman Yost of the board of assessors said that Fire Marshal Lucas has done exceptionally good work in.

sessors said that Fire Marshal Lucas has done exceptionally good work in getting a line on new buildings and as a result of his activity the assessors are enabled to locate new property much easier this year than ever before. It is essential that everybody who plans to build should take out a permit and he is piensed to learn that the law in this matter is now being enforced. It is estimated that nearly $500,000 worth of new buildings has been erected this year.—Meriden Record.

Factory Boom in New Britain. New Britain factories are extremely busy. Indications point to a recordireaking business eduring the year ahead, and the local exotains of industry are full of confidence. New help is being bired and nearly every shop in town is building on, the work reing pushed with all possible speed so that the enlarged facilities can be used as quickly as possible. The Traut & Hine company is occupying its new addition. Landers, Frary & Clark are building a power plant. The American Hosiery company and the Vulcan iron works are preparing to build. The Stanley works is increasing its Niles, O., plant. Russell & Erwin have plans out for a new building and the Corbin Screw corporation is add. Ing to its plant.

The average catch of the Norwegian cod fisheries for a period of 42 years, covered by statistical reports, is 50,-700,000 cod per annum. Considering that circular structures best resist earthquake shocks. Prof. Gluseppe Torres of Venice, has designed a house for earthquake regions, consisting of several circular turrets of different diameter communicating with each other. This seems more artistic than economical.
